

AYCOCK ANNOUNCES HIS CANDIDACY FOR THE U. S. SENATE

Ex-Governor the Fourth Man Who Wants to Wear Toga Now Worn By Senator Simmons—His Policy Outlined in Announcement of Candidacy.

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, May 20.—Ex-Governor Chas. B. Aycock stepped into the arena today as an avowed candidate for the United States Senate to succeed Senator F. M. Simmons, making the fourth candidate for the Simmons toga and, it is thought, closing the entries for this race which promises to be the most strenuous ever. However, in entering the race ex-Governor Aycock stipulates that he will not get into anything like a campaign for the primary nomination. He says his finances will not admit of it and that there is imperative necessity for him to pursue his profession as a lawyer with unabating energy. He merely expects next year to get into the campaign for the whole Democratic ticket and then at the polls if the people will do so they can give him their nominating vote for the senatorship and with the election by the legislature, he will give his very best efforts for the whole people in the Senate. A lengthy letter setting out his views and attitude in this matter is given to the press. It is addressed to Col. Nathan B. Whitfield, of Kinston, who had written him urging especially that he declare his candidacy. Col. Whitfield is 80 years old and has been a close personal friend of Gov. Aycock for many years.

Gov. Aycock's letter which outlines his position as a candidate, follows:

"Dear Sir: I have given much consideration not only to your letter, but to the numerous letters which I have received along the same line. I have been greatly gratified to find that, without solicitation or expectation on my part, and in spite of my previous statement that I would not be a candidate for the Senate, great numbers of people from all callings in the state, have urged me by letter, by message and in person to reconsider the question and become a candidate. One who has been in public life and who has enjoyed the support and the confidence of the people, can never free himself from the obligation of giving due consideration to any call which the people make upon him. The requests from all parts of the State, and from people in all stations of life, have been so numerous and impressive as to lead me to the conclusion that it is my duty to say to the people that if chosen by the Democratic party and elected by the legislature, I shall be glad to serve North Carolina in the United States Senate.

"It is unnecessary for me to enunciate any personal platform, it being well known throughout the state that I have always stood on the National and the State Democratic platforms without question, believing as I do that the assembled wisdom of the Democracy of the nation and state is far greater than my own. I shall make no campaign looking to my selection for the senatorship. My financial condition is such that it is absolutely essential that I pursue my profession as a lawyer with unabated energy until such time as the people shall lay other duties upon me. I have no money to spend perfecting an organization and if I had it I am convinced that the greatest evil of this day politically is the use of money in securing nominations and elections and I, therefore, would not use it if I were able to command a fund requisite for such purposes. In addition to this reason for refusing to attempt an organization in behalf of my candidacy I have a feeling that the Senatorship would be worthless to me if secured by any such methods. If I shall go to the Senate I must go free from special obligation to any set of men, and, therefore, under equal obligation to every man. Going to the Senate in this way would put me in a position to give to the people the highest service of which I am capable. I shall, therefore, entrust my candidacy without reservation to the people of the state, and shall not seek to shape their selection by organization or by personal appeals to them. I cannot under any circumstances enter into a canvass with a view to presenting to North Carolinians my own deserts. If I have any, they are known to the people of this State, and they know best whether whatever talent I have is likely to be useful to them. When the time comes for the opening of the political cam-

ASHEBORO STREET IS FREE FROM DUST

Residents Have Gotten Together And Had Coat of Oil Spread On Busy Thoroughfare—An Example That Resident of Other Streets Might Well Follow.

The residents living on Asheboro street are hustling people and are keeping in the forefront in all matters pertaining to the welfare of their city and especially that portion of it in which they live. They have gotten together and had the entire street treated to a coat of oil which keeps down the dust and makes the street the most desirable one in the city on which to live.

Heretofore the residents have been having the street sprinkled, paying the expenses out of their own pockets, but an investigation showed that it would be cheaper to coat the street with oil. The traffic is quite heavy on the street and frequent sprinkling did not keep the dust down. Now, however, the street is dustless and the residents are congratulating themselves at every corner.

There are other streets in the city that are sprinkled during the hot summer months that could be oiled for less expense and the results would be much more satisfactory. Last year West Market street between Green and Elm was treated to a coat of oil and the dust was kept down on this block during the entire summer months. Not only does the oil keep the dust down but it acts as a protector of the street in that the fine particles of dirt and gravel are not carried off in the dust and the street impaired.

KNIGHTS OF HONOR IN NEW ORLEANS

Special to Telegram.
Mobile, Ala., May 20.—A number of the Supreme officers and representatives to the Grand Lodge of the Knights of Honor, which convenes here May 23, arrived today on the Mallory Line Steamship, Coma. Supreme Vice Dictator Edwin C. Wood, of New York City, heads the party containing representatives from Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Pennsylvania. Wood will probably become Supreme Dictator of the order.

Other supreme officers who have already arrived are L. E. Bentley, Supreme Dictator, New Orleans; Steve R. Johnston, Assistant Supreme Dictator, Atlanta, Ga.; A. J. Hess, Supreme Chaplain, Columbus, Ky.

Local committees of the order have arranged an elaborate program for the entertainment of the visitors during their stay in the city.

I shall next year, as in all election years heretofore, tender my services to the party organization to do battle in behalf of Democratic principles. The speeches which I shall then make will be made in the service of the Democratic party and without regard to their possible effect upon my personal interests. If at the end of the campaign, the people select any other candidate for the United States Senate, I shall cheerfully acquiesce in the result. Public service when honestly rendered is the most difficult and painful of all service, and the satisfaction to be derived therefrom becomes manifest to one only after the service has been rendered in fidelity to the trust of the people, and when in private life he can receive the just praise of his fellow citizens for faithfulness to their interests. I have served the people of this state once in high office and I have enjoyed since then the constant and increasing confidence of the people of North Carolina in the integrity of my purpose when governor and the appreciation which they have since shown me of the service which I was then able to do for the state. It is with a light heart that I permit myself to announce to the people through you my candidacy for the United States Senate.

"Very truly yours,
"C. B. AYCOCK."

Orozco Fomenting Discord Among Revolutionists; Effect of the Cannonading on Juarez Buildings.

Some idea of the damage done to the buildings in Juarez by the assaults of the insurgents may be gained from the above illustration. The other picture shows General Orozco sowing seeds of discontent among his followers. Orozco, jealous at the credit given Garibaldi for the capture of Juarez, lured up a group of his faithful ones and demanded Madero's resignation, the surrender to them of Navarro, the federal general, and a lot of other things. Madero succeeded in pacifying the malcontents and aided Navarro to escape to the United States.

KAISER And King George Apparently Miffed at Each Other—Did Not Say Goodbye

Special to Telegram.
London, May 20.—King George and Kaiser William appeared to be at odds when they parted this afternoon. King George and Queen Mary accompanied their German cousins to the station and the King and Kaiser walked through the royal waiting room talking earnestly, the King emphasizing his remarks by smiting his hands severely.

The Kaiser suddenly turned his back on King George and talked to Lord Lansdale, while King George turned and talked with the Duke of Connaught as the German Emperor and Empress were bidding the other members of the party farewell. After the Kaiser and Kaiserine had entered their royal car King George bowed gravely, but the royal personages parted without bidding each other goodbye.

HIGH POINT PREPARING TO SPEND BOND MONEY.

High Point, May 20.—Under direction of the board of city commissioners, their engineer, Mr. J. A. Johnson, is now making numerous preliminary measurements and surveys with a view of definitely locating the extension of water and sewer lines, streets and sidewalks. The $90,000 recently voted by the citizens will be used for the purpose, and every ward in the city will be given due consideration in proportion to its needs.

When the next meeting of the city council is held June 6, definite estimates will be ready. Plans and specifications probably adopted, and advertised for bids. The writer is informed that much of this important work will be completed this year. The best material and latest construction methods are to be used in this work. Owing to the natural drainage advantages, which this city possesses, the sewerage system is already one of the best in the State, and with the aggressive co-operative work of the civic league and sanitary committee, and the excellent water supply, the sickness and death rate figures are getting less here each year.

WOMAN TRIAL DRAWS BIG CROWD

Prominent Woman of Marshall County, Ky., Charged With Murder of Her Husband On April 4—Was Arrested Ten Days Ago On Murder Charge.

Special to Telegram.

Benton, Ky., May 20.—Great crowds filled the little courtroom here today at the trial of Mrs. Lucy Griffith, who is accused of the murder of her husband, Edward Griffith, Marshall county, which is the center of the tobacco wars and night riding, has never seen a white woman of so prominent a family on trial for murder. The slain man is a son of Postmaster Griffith.

Mrs. Griffith was arrested ten days ago but was not imprisoned, being guarded at her home. She is 27 years of age and is considered one of the handsomest matrons of Marshall county. She denies her guilt.

On the morning of April 4 Griffith drank a whiskey toddy and a moment later fell back unconscious. A physician was summoned, but he died within 15 minutes. An investigation disclosed the fact that the whiskey contained strychnine in deadly quantities. Relatives refused to permit an autopsy. Mrs. Griffith evidenced the deepest grief over the sad occurrence. The prosecution claims that Griffith's last words were, "Father she killed me. You know I never told you a lie in my life." Mrs. Griffith claims that after mixing the deadly toddy her husband tried to persuade her to drink it. She is sure that he intended for her to die, after which he would have killed himself. It is reported that lodges to which the deceased belonged are assisting in the prosecution.

The married life of Mr. and Mrs. Griffith was apparently happy until about a year ago, when something occurred to disturb their domestic relations.

M'CORMICK'S CHILDREN HAVE GREAT FREEDOM

Special to Telegram.
Chicago, May 20.—The guards protecting Muriel and Fowler McCormick, the favorite grandchildren of John D. Rockefeller, have not been employed since the return of the McCormicks from abroad last autumn. The children are among the heirs to the greatest fortune in the world. They now attend school, walk and drive with only the supervision of their governess. Since receiving letters from blackmailers in 1908 threatening to steal her children Mrs. McCormick has lived in constant terror of losing them, but it is believed that her desire that the children shall receive Democratic training has overcome her fears.

MONEY WANTED FOR THE Y. M. C. A. BUILDING.

The work on the Young Men's Christian Association building is progressing rapidly, in fact more rapidly than funds for the work are being paid in. The building committee yesterday had to borrow money to make the weekly payment to the contractor, having decided that it was better to borrow money than to have the construction work stopped. The contractors have put the roof on the gymnasium and the stone work in the third story has been laid. With favorable weather the roof will be put on the building this week. The steamfitters will also begin their work this week.

PLANS ARE BEING MATURED FOR ADMINISTRATION BUILDING.

Special to Telegram.
Raleigh, May 20.—The State Building Committee continued in session today, practically the whole time being devoted to hearing State officers as to ideas they have as to quarters for the various departments of state to be housed in the building. The judges of the Supreme Court were among those given lengthy hearings. Their ideas as to the details of the plans were taken down by a stenographer and the several architects who are here "mending their fences" in competition for the contract for the plans were given the benefit of the discussions. The architects are to prepare and submit plans speedily so that it is not expected that more than sixty days will be consumed in the acceptance of plans, the reception of bids for the contract and the awarding of the contract ready for the actual work to begin. The commission has opened offices here but will not elect a clerk until the work they have in hand is considerably more advanced than now.

The commission adjourned this afternoon to await architects plans and proposals for election of architect and adoption of plans to be received June 6. Plans are to be for a building 65x190 feet, five stories high. The site purchased is 67x210 feet.

Rain Needed in Summerfield Vicinity.

Col. J. A. Hoskins, of Summerfield, spent yesterday in the city. Col. Hoskins stated that the farmers in his section of the county were needing rain badly. The continued drouth, he said, has made it impossible for the farmers to plant any tobacco and the plants are becoming too large, running up in a spindling fashion that makes them undesirable for planting. He said that there are plenty of plants.

When asked regarding the corn crop Mr. Hoskins said that so far the crop conditions were fair, that the dry weather had enabled the farmers to get all their seed in the ground and unless the dry weather continued a fair stand was expected.

THE GREENSBORO AND ROXBORO RAILROAD.

It is the deliberate judgment of the business men of Greensboro who composed the party going over the route of the proposed Greensboro and Roxboro railroad in the automobile reliability run that there is not a better section of country in North Carolina than that between this city and Henderson along the line of the projected road.

By far the greater part of the country is very productive and some of it is fertile, as fertility of soil is reckoned in this State. There are considerable stretches of fine timber lands in this district, but the lands for the most part are cleared. The country is populous and prosperous. The evident high state of cultivation of the farms, the fine horses and cattle, the splendid homes of the people, the excellent churches and school buildings were a revelation to men unfamiliar with that section.

Portions of the country seen by the Greensboro party were twenty miles from a railroad and the proposed railroad would afford traffic facilities for people who are now as much as thirty miles from a railroad. Despite the lack of railroad facilities in this wide stretch of country, the people have made progress which is wonderful, in view of the limitations of their surroundings. These people constitute as fine rural population as is to be found in the State. They are native to the soil and they belong to the pure Anglo-Saxon North Carolina stock. What they have accomplished in their isolated condition evidences the splendid worth of the country in which they live and the strong character, energy and real worth of the people.

No railroad in North Carolina runs through a better country, inhabited by better people, than the Greensboro and Roxboro railroad will reach if it is constructed from this city to Henderson.
The most conservative business men of this city and the towns along the line believe there is ample population and business to sustain the road and make it a paying investment from the start.
Capt. J. W. Fry, Chairman of the Chamber of Commerce railroad committee, has already secured figures which show that the population is much greater along this route than the population along the lines of most of the railroads in the State at the time when they were built, and even yet many of them are doing business and making money in sections not as populous as this.

The road proposed would extend from the best city in the State to a city which is unexcelled in proportion to its population—Henderson—and would pass through the growing and prosperous towns of Burlington, Graham, Roxboro, and Oxford. There would be several villages on the line, also. The road would have a large volume of business from its completion. It would run through the finest tobacco section of the State and a territory in which the lumber business would furnish a large amount of traffic. It would reach flourishing manufacturing towns and would have connections with the Southern, Norfolk and Western and Seaboard Air Line railroads. It would extend through the counties of Guilford, Alamance, Caswell, Person, Granville and Vance.

The territory is open for the construction of the Greensboro and Roxboro railroad. The people along the projected line want the road and it is believed they will meet the people of Greensboro and Guilford half way and do their part toward its construction.
Having started this movement, Greensboro is obligated to lead it to a successful end. To do this will require time and effort. One of the most difficult of modern business problems is the construction of a railroad. This may not be observed from a casual view of the matter, but men who have worked out the details of railroad promotion and construction know this to be true. Consequently, an almost endless amount of detail work will be necessary to start this movement to going and the actual task of building and equipping the road, if the money for its construction is secured, will require time. However, it is a perfectly feasible proposition; and as far as good business men are able to forecast the future, would be a dividend earner after being put in operation. The greater part of the country through which it is proposed to build needs a railroad and Greensboro needs another railroad. Therefore, the logical conclusion is that the people of this city and Henderson and along the line of the projected road should get together and build it. It can be done.

United action will accomplish this result.

drew Jackson wasn't born are flocking

Major Stedman's Speech.

Maj. Chas. M. Stedman, who represents the greatest district in the South, made his maiden speech in Congress yesterday in advocacy of the admission of Arizona and New Mexico to statehood.
His speech made a fine impression. He criticized the recall feature of the Arizona Constitution as it applies to judges, and incidentally paid a high tribute to Chief Justice Clark, of North Carolina, pronouncing him to be "one of the greatest common law judges in this era of distinguished lawyers."—Webster's Weekly.

IS THIS SCHEME TO LOCK UP THE GREENSBORO FORCE?

The Board of Commissioners had workmen busy during the past two weeks, renovating the offices in the city hall, preparatory to opening up headquarters and beginning active operations. So far the work they have done has been at a disadvantage because of the fact that they had only improvised offices here and there.

Commissioners Brown and Foushee will have offices in the south end of the building, as will Inspector Milton and Health Officer Donovan. Mayor Murphy will then move into the office at present occupied by Commissioner Foushee, adjoining the office of the City Clerk.

The office in which the police department has been quartered is being renovated also, but it is not known for what purpose. The police have been moved into the front room of the old calaboose.
For the past two days three negroes under the supervision of Sergeant Barnes have been busy cleaning out the dirt, germs, bacilli and pestiferous insects that have for years made their abode in this section of the city hall.
The rear of the police office opens directly into the three six by eight feet cells, commonly called the calaboose, while just in the rear of this place of detention and separated by second-class

(Copyright, 1911.)

windows are the stables and feed rooms of the fire department.

The police are at present discussing the advisability of using a compound of formaldehyde and oil of pennyroyal to counteract the smell that will surely percolate from the calaboose into their lounging place the first time a couple of greasy negroes are confined in the calaboose on a hot day, or night. This smell, combined with that from the horse stables in the rear, will no doubt be "something fierce" and it is doubtful whether a single officer can maintain his dignity under such circumstances.

It is understood that the commissioners are figuring on placing the calaboose in the rear of the patrol house, in a room so small that four men could hardly live in it through a hot summer night. The police force are taking the change as a matter of fact, but some of the officers state that they cannot understand why the city will thrust them into any kind of a shack when the other employees of the city are furnished with more comfortable surroundings.
The firemen, they say, all have decent places in which to stay, with bath rooms fitted up, and they feel that they should be given some consideration.

ROCKINGHAM TO HAVE CAMPAIGN FOR GOOD ROADS

Reidsville, May 20.—Under the chaperonage of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Oliver the Reidsville Review will send 20 young ladies from Rockingham, Caswell, Alamance, Guilford, Forsyth and Stokes counties, North Carolina, and Pittsylvania and Henry counties, Virginia, in automobiles to Piedmont Springs for a two weeks' outing. The paper is to defray all expenses of the party, and a popular voting contest will determine the winners of the paper's hospitality.
The mountains of Stokes have seldom been visited by automobiles, but five big touring cars with expert chauffeurs have been employed for the trip and the authorities of Stokes county are repairing and widening the roads along the route which the tourists will traverse.

The Danbury Reporter says that many young men from Winston, Greensboro, Danville and other towns and cities have made reservations in the Piedmont hotel and will be present during the stay of The Review's "Girl Scouts" from June 5th to the 19th.

Chairman R. P. Richardson, of the Rockingham Good Roads Association has called an important meeting of the good roads advocates to meet at the county seat Monday afternoon for a conference at which time the plans for a campaign for a $50,000 bond issue will be adopted. The consensus of opinion in this county at this time is that the bond issue will be carried by a safe majority, but the work of thoroughly organizing every precinct in the county will be undertaken by Chairman Richardson before the election is called.

At times Johnny seems as if he were a hundred years old. He has a quaint, bird-like way of cocking his

of those questions, I should solve the darkest mysteries of life and death.—

STATE NEWSPAPERS ON THE CANDIDACY OF JUDGE CLARK

If we had anything to do with it we should prefer a senator not so radical as Judge Clark and not so conservative as Mr. Simmons. In other words, a man who did not belong to anybody and did not have it in for anybody.— Durham Herald.

There are many of Judge Clark's friends who will think that he has made a mistake in leaving the bench and entering the race for United States Senator.
His training has been along judicial lines, the same as the training of Senator Simmons and Governor Kitchin has been along legislative lines. Judge Clark's fine judicial equipment does not in any way unfit him for the position of Senator, but with all of his well rounded accomplishments the State could not for several years look for the same service in him as that which either one of his opponents could give. Both have had twelve years experience in the halls of Congress and no matter what sentiment might force us to reluctantly admit, the South has more than once realized its mistake in not holding on to men of experience in Congress.—High Point Enterprise.

Chief Justice Clark would look mighty good to us in the Senate.—Madison Herald.

Chief Justice Walter Clark of the Supreme Court of North Carolina has announced his candidacy for the United States Senate to succeed Hon. F. M.
Simmons. Justice Clark will shed honor upon his State anywhere, it matters not where he is placed. But North Carolina needs him on the bench and his resignation would be a serious loss.
We trust he will be defeated for the Senate, and we believe he will be. We think too much of him to give him up.
—Thomasville Davidsson.

Judge Walter Clark has at last heard from his old friend in the mountain coves of Yancey, and as a consequence the judge announces that he will be in the race for the United States Senate.
Now we shall see if he is as popular with the people as he has appeared to be in the past.—Statesville Landmark.

The announcement of Judge Clark, chief justice of the Supreme Court, that he will be a candidate to succeed Senator Simmons, forms the most interesting piece of political news which has been sent out from Raleigh in a long time.

That Judge Clark is amply qualified to sit in the national senate few, if any,
who have watched the course of the eminent justice on the Supreme court bench will deny. The real character of the chief justice may be well determined by glancing at his thoroughly Democratic avowal. He, as he states in his announcement, believes in the Democracy of Jefferson, a brand which if fully embraced means popular government and popular rights. Among other features in Chief Justice Clark's interesting announcement is his declaration that the recent decision of the United States Supreme court in the Standard Oil case makes it plain that the fight for control of the trusts must be taken from the courts to the United States senate. Judge Clark is also a firm believer in the doctrine of tariff for revenue only; he stands for the "initiative and referendum," direct election of United States senators and universal primaries. He also believes in the recall of such officers as the law may provide. All of which, as the man on the street would say, is, "some platform."

Meanwhile there will be much speculation as to the general effect of Judge Clark's presence in the senatorial race on the candidacy of such old campaigners as Kitchin and Simmons. It was generally believed that the ex-governor, Charles B. Aycock, should be decided to enter the lists, would be hailed as a sort of peacemaker, and that these Democrats who desired to avoid the chances of a disastrous factional fight would flock to his standard. But Judge Clark can now be looked upon in the same light, and between himself and Aycock either Kitchin or Simmons has a chance to win, for the "peace" vote will naturally be divided.—Asheville Citizen.

The decision of Chief Justice Clark to enter the senatorial contest assures a triangular, if not a quadrangular, contest for the toga of Senator Simmons.
While neither Senator Simmons or Governor Kitchin has announced themselves, it is understood to be a settled fact that they will be in the running, while the friends of ex-Governor Aycock will not be content till he accedes to their wishes and enters the race. With such a wealth of material to select from, the Old North State is assured of being creditably represented, no matter which of the four may develop the greatest vote-getting capacity in the final test of strength. This being an off-year, there is no need to enter into comparisons of the qualifications and claims of the aspirants. The voters will render judgment in a State-wide primary next year and there will be abundant time for the fullest discussion between January and November, or whatever date the primary is held.—Webster's Weekly.

Naturally.

"The attempt to commit suicide is not a punishable offense under the German criminal code. But of course," says a London exchange, "if you succeed you must be prepared to take the consequences."

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable.
For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment.
Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market.
It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

WHAT WOULD YOU THINK OF A MERCHANT
IN THIS UP-TO-DATE
MODERN COMMERCIAL
AGE WHO NEVER CHANG-ED HIS WINDOW DISPLAY
from one week's end to another, and even if he did, continued to use the same plan of display. You would no doubt say that that man never had anything new to show, but was a fossil, out of date, back number, or some equally as uncomplimentary conclusion would be arrived at.

SOME MERCHANTS
WONDER WHY THEY DON'T GET RETURNS FOR THEIR ADVERTISING, they contend that the people don't read advertising. The whole truth is just here, the advertisements are not made attractive. You can count on it that the people will notice and read every line that is up-to-date and attractive. If you, Mr.
Merchant, continue day by day to run your ads in the same style using identically the same type, same space and particularly saying the same thing, you have nobody to blame but yourself for not getting proper returns from your advertising.
The people don't have to read it, because they know "by heart" what you are telling them. This sameness in advertising grows just as monotonous as the sameness in window displaying, or any other display of your merchandise. Your ads should be gotten up attractively, they should be illustrated, they should not contain too much wording, to be short and to the point and give the newspaper man an opportunity to display his skill in the arrangement of your ads.
You will find that people read advertisements, and you will get results.

Do Ghosts Haunt Swamps?

No, Never. It's foolish to fear a fancied evil, when there are real and deadly perils to guard against in swamps and marshes, bayous, and lowlands.
These are the malaria germs that cause ague, chills and fever, weakness, aches in the bones and muscles and may induce deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters destroys and casts out these vicious germs from the blood. "Three bottles drove all the malaria from my system," wrote Wm. Fretwell, of Luever since." Use this safe, sure remedy

There are Liver Syrups, Liver Pills and Dry Regulators, all too drastic and disagreeable, and while they give quick relief from one trouble, get you into worse often. HEARD IN A SOUTHERN HOTEL

Little Girl Explains That Young Lady Is "Her Papa's New Step-wife."

It is said to have happened in a southern hotel, where those who seek perpetual spring spend the winter. The usual number of fads and curious old ladies sat upon the great veranda, discussing everybody but themselves, and attention was suddenly attracted by a handsome couple that passed through the hotel corridor, followed by a little girl, who, small as she was, appeared to be too old to be the daughter of the lady in the case. The handsome couple entered a motor car, and, waving an affectionate goodbye to the little girl, sped out of the hotel grounds with a loud whirl and disappeared up the distant roadway. The little girl watched them until they were quite out of sight, and then turning around she sought out a chair not far from the group of gossipers. It was not long before her loneliness was noted by one of the ladies, who called out a pleasant greeting.

"I don't think I have seen you here before, my little girl," she said, with a gracious smile.

"No, ma'am," said the little girl. "We only got here last night."

"And do you like it here?" she was asked.

"Very much," she replied. "It's lovely here."

"And you didn't go motoring with your papa and mamma, did you?" said the good lady, subtly.

"No, I don't like motor cars," said the child. "It makes me seasick to ride in them."

"Your mamma is a very young looking lady to have so big a child as you are," said the good lady.

"She isn't my real mamma," said the child.

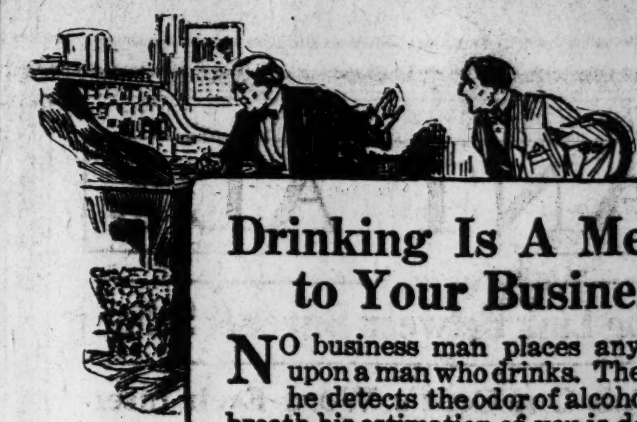

"Oh, indeed," said the good lady. "No," said the little one, gravely. "She's my papa's new stepwife."—Horace Dodd Gastit, in Judge.

Headache In Her Feet.

Helen is a little 4-year-old, with old-fashioned, grown-up ways. Like most healthy children, she wakes early in the morning, so her grandmother, who is a late riser, gives her a hand mirror and powder puff to play with for an hour before she gets up. On a recent morning she was found with the mirror at the foot of the bed, and gravely said to her grandparent: "That's my foot warmer. I've got such a headache in my feet."

Four weeks of treatment at the Keeley Institute will make you a new man. It will take away your appetite for liquor, and put you back in the same place you were before you started drinking.

The Keeley treatment as administered at Greensboro, N. C., is distinctive. There is a personality behind it that will rebuild your character—that will give you a firmer grip upon yourself and a stronger will power.

You can't afford to overlook this proposition. Your future depends upon it. Write us to-day for our book. Let us prove to you by the thousands of successful cases we have treated just how we can benefit you. Don't hesitate. Your communication will be treated with strict confidence.

EFFECTS OF INTENSE LIGHT

They Are Not So Serious When the Amount Received by the Retina Is Reduced.

It is not so much the intensity of the light focused on the retina as it is the quantity received by that sensitive organ that causes retinal fatigue or worse. In the great snow fields of the arctic regions the natives protect their eyes from the glare of the snow by goggles made of hollowed pieces of wood in which they have made small holes to look through. This, says the Optical Review, reduces the quantity of the light which passes into their eyes with consequent relief from the glare.

So, too, if we look through a minute pinhole disc at the sun we can endure the very bright light much longer than when we look with the naked eye. If we look at a distant electric arc light there is no retinal fatigue, while if we look at the same light from a short distance there is great discomfort, and yet the two retinal images are of equal brilliancy, only in the first case this image is very much smaller than in the second case; that is the quantity of light is very much different.

Then there is the flaming electric light which is now to be found in all of the large cities of the country. This light is much less brilliant than that of the arc light, and yet its size is so great that this more than makes up the difference, and it is, therefore, very glaring and uncomfortable to look at. In skyscrapers it is possible to use a very intense light if it is made small in area and for the reasons above stated.

Habersham King's Views.

New York, May 20.—Habersham King of Atlanta, wires: "Sufficient moisture in the soil to insure germination; hence dry weather is favorable, nearly curing unfavorable start in delta. Indications favor development of local showers which in moderation would be beneficial but danger at this stage of growth lies in excess, not deficiency of moisture. The week's developments were favorable over the entire belt, except in western Oklahoma."

ELKIN AND ALLEGHANY RAILROAD SUBJECT OF MUCH DISCUSSION

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, May 20.—The second conference of Governor Kitchin and the Council of State with officers of the Elkin and Alleghany Railroad Company and President Jno. A. Mills of the Raleigh and Southport, today, as to sale of the Elkin and Alleghany road, resulted in a counter proposition by the Council of State which necessitates further investigation as to the possibility of financing the enterprise under the proposed new conditions; so Mr. Mills and President Hugh G. Chatham, of the Elkin and Alleghany go at once to New York to finally adjust matters to conform to the new conditions stipulated by the Council of State.

All are confident that the conditions stipulated by the Council of State will be met and the transfer of the property made, assuring the immediate completion and operation of the road from Elkin to Sparta and Jefferson, with an early extension far into the western section of the State; thus opening a new and direct short line from the west into the central Carolina territory.

MONEY TALKS; LIFE LISTENS

Man Boasts of Owning Wealth, When He Is Really Its Abject Slave.

Money talks and life listens to it. It listens, not to the tongue of men or of angels. But when money, the means of life, becomes the end, the end to all intents and purposes it is. Then does the man of means, king of a vast realm, abdicate in favor of the slave. None is so poor as he that is possessed of his possession; none so contemptible as he that abjectly serves his servant. Money is an old servant of man's, forever forgetting its place and going unrebuked. Never to have taken orders from it or "back talk" is to be a master indeed.

Nothing is more common than to hear a man boast of his money. Is it his? Rather, he is its. It is a thing of authority. It saith to one man, "Go," and he goeth; to another, "Come," and he cometh, and to its servant, "Do this," and this he doeth. At its word, man jumps out of his sick bed, jostles his bosom friend, breaks an appointment with love, lets music come and go unheard, beauty unseen. Lest money should talk to him like the green of the earth, the blue of the sky, the jealous mistress it is, he forgoes the green of the earth, the blue of the sky, the voice of his old playmate, the river, calls to him in vain; the mother tongue of wind and wave is no longer even a memory; the meaning of pleasure is lost to him. All this for money's sake.—Smart Set.

Fighting the Mongooses.

In Jamaica there is a prepossession on the head of every MongOOSE. Like the English sparrow, the Indian mongoose was imported to Jamaica to drive out snakes, but the agent became, in turn, a pest itself, and the mongoose, in addition to killing snakes, killed chickens and practically every small thing that came within its reach. Consequently, its doom was sealed and a price set upon its head. The United States was forced to follow, and the mongoose can only come into this country by the smuggling process, unless directed to a zoo.

ASSAULT

On Woman Caused Lynching in Bluefield, W. Va., Yesterday Morning

Special to Telegram.

Bluefield, W. V., May 20.—John Sorkey, a tramp, was lynched here this morning before daylight for the crime that is usually followed by a lynching in this state. Sorkey was hanged to the cross on the little Catholic church near town and the body left swinging in the early morning light in order that the victim of the deceased might see that the crime had been averted. Sorkey, who had been in town but a week, lay in wait near the church last night and criminally assaulted Mrs. Harry James, the wife of a miner, as she was on her way to the store. He was tracked with dogs and caught three miles from town. He was dragged back to the scene of his crime where he confessed his guilt and was stretched in the air without further ceremony.

American Cotton Manufacturers Close Convention

Richmond, Va., May 20.—Election of officers, the adoption of a series of resolutions and the reading of a number of papers of technical rather than general interest, concluded the convention of the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association at the Jefferson Hotel yesterday morning. Ellison A. Smyth, of Greenville, S. C., president of the Pelzer Manufacturing Company and of the Belton Mills, was elected president by acclamation. W. A. Erwin, who has been chairman of the board of governors for the past year, was elected vice-president. He is secretary and treasurer of the Erwin Mills, at West Durham, N. C. C. B. Bryant, of Charlotte, N. C., was reelected secretary and treasurer, a position he has held for a number of years. New members elected to the board of governors for a term of three years were: John A. Law, Spartanburg, S. C.; William E. Hooper, Baltimore; S. W. Cramer, Charlotte, N. C., and T. L. Wainwright, of Stonewall, Miss.

Immediately after the final adjournment of the convention, which came at 12:30 o'clock, the board of governors held a brief session and reorganized, electing Charles D. Tuller, secretary and treasurer of the Exposition Mills of Atlanta, Ga., as chairman for the ensuing year.

The selection of the next place of meeting is left in the hands of the board of governors, Richmond being the only city as yet in the field, the Chamber of Commerce having extended an invitation to the association to make this its permanent annual meeting place, a plan favored by many members.

because of the central location and the absence of local bias.

The report of the committee on resolutions was unanimously adopted, thanks being returned to all who had assisted in the convention, to speakers and others. Sir Charles W. Mascal Bart., president of the International Federation Master Cotton Spinners' and Manufacturers' Association, was elected an honorary member. The resolutions, signed by R. M. Miller, Jr., Arthur H. Lowe, C. D. Tuller and Scott Maxwell, contain the following:

"Resolved, that a standing committee of not less than fifteen, be appointed by the president, to be known as the committee on tariff and other legislation, whose duty shall be to act for and represent the association and co-operate with committees from other similar organizations, in all matters of legislation and that meetings of the same be subject to the call of the chairman of said committee."

President-elect Smyth announced the following as members of the committee on tariff legislation as called for in the report of the committee on resolutions:

R. M. Miller, Jr., chairman; D. Y. Cooper and S. W. Cramer, North Carolina; A. H. Babson, Virginia; Lewis W. Parker, J. D. Hammett, J. H. Morgan, South Carolina; C. D. Tuller, T. L. Hickman, Georgia; Scott Maxwell and L. D. Tyson, Alabama, and Tennessee; T. L. Wainwright, Mississippi; Paul J. Marrs, Louisiana, and one place to be filled by a representative of the State of Texas.

CHICAGO DRINKERS OF BEER HAVE GREAT CAPACITY

Special to Telegram.

Chicago, May 20.—It is estimated that 3,000,000 gallons of beer have been consumed here during the past three hot days. This is a greater average consumption of beer than the average in Berlin. Half of Chicago's population does not drink beer and this makes the average for each drinker about one gallon per day.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE Delights the Ladies

Because they know from experience that the intelligent use of Herpicide means much to their personal appearance. It saves and beautifies the hair and in the vast majority of cases, adds greatly to its abundance. The presence of the dandruff germ in the scalp destroys the gloss and beauty of the hair, even before the resulting disease becomes firmly established. Each day that the use of Newbro's Herpicide is put off, makes the repair that much more difficult. Save your hair while you have hair to save.

The intelligent use of Herpicide proves its actual worth.

"I have used Herpicide for several months now and will positively state that it is the best dandruff remover and hair dressing in the world and I have tried about everything sold by our local dealers. Nothing has given such excellent results as Newbro's Herpicide."

MRS. HENRY W. BATHKE, Sumner, Iowa.

"Newbro's Herpicide is the best dressing for the hair I ever used. The dandruff is gone and my hair is growing long, thick and beautiful. My husband was getting bald, but since he began to use Herpicide the bare spots are covered with fine hair."

MRS. E. RIKER
223 Sunnyside Avenue,
Brooklyn, New York.

SOME EPIGRAMS OF WORLD'S MOST FORCEFUL PULPIT ORATOR

Sentences From Sermons of Dr. Jowett of Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church—Denominational News From The Metropolis.

(By D. V. FRANCIS.)

Special to Telegram.

New York, May 20.—The Presbyterian General assembly now in session at Atlantic City will be watched with keen interest by church-men of all denominations. It will be one of the most important church gatherings held in a long time and its action will have a marked influence on the stand to be taken by other great protestant denominations on the question of higher criticism, new thought and the breaking away from the old moorings. Some of the strongest men in the denomination are inclined to favor the so-called advance ideas while others are fearful that the agitation of the question will be likely to do more harm than good. There is, however, a strong element in the church which seems determined to have the matter thrashed out and the position of the Presbyterian church clearly defined. Hence the interest in the big meeting.

Rev. Dr. Jowett the new pastor of the big Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church in New York, is perhaps the first and most forceful pulpit orator of the day. An admirer of Dr. Jowett has compiled some of his epigrammatic sayings which are worth remembering. Here are a few.

"He shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost and"—power to burn.

"The wages of sin is"—benumbment.

"When ye pray"—get beneath somebody's burden.

"Know ye not that your bodies are"—churches, not pigsties.

"The things which happened unto me"—had a twist.

"Who-drinketh my blood"—hath blood—hath blood to give.

"In Christ shall all be"—vitalized.

Illustrating.

You tell the age of a tree by the number of its inner rings. By the intercession you register the man's growth in grace.

A perfectly dry eye would be blind. A perfectly dry religion has no sight.

Always the clearest views when there is a little moisture in the atmosphere.

All the great experts in spiritual life have been men who have not denuded their religion of emotion.

Hear the carbon coil in the bulb say, "I shine, yet not I, not I, but the electric energy shines in me." Hear Paul say, "I live, yet not I, but Christ that liveth in me."

The dredger in the river deepens the channel. An awe is a dredge deepening the life, taking out vanity and frivolity.

Defining.

Grey is black shot through with light. Grey is black with the halo on it.

Faith is reasonable dealing with reasonable things.

Prayer is a mighty business, a tremendous business in the waters of grace.

Belief is the acceptance of a map. Faith is taking the voyage.

Faith is belief ventured upon.

The individual is only an organ, not an organ, not an organism.

Hope contemplates a possibility; faith converts a possibility into actuality; love is the resulting disposition.

Hope is a foundation; faith draws the water and drinks; love distributes the water to others.

Faith is an attitude of soul which extracts the substance out of hoped for possibilities.

Faith is the venture of the will acting on the suggestions of the mind.

Grace is the divine energy of holiness issuing in the ministry of love in quest of the lovely and by the communication of itself covering the unlovely into the lovely.

Worldliness is a spirit, a temper, an attitude, a pose, a posture, a disposition of the soul, a certain inclination, a certain aspect of the soul.

The heart is that part of the personality of a man which feels after God.

Woodstock College, socially known as a Jesuit House of Studies, located for more than fifty years at Woodstock, Md., is to be removed to a site on the Hudson River a few miles north of New York City-line. The reason for removal is insufficient transportation facilities to Woodstock. Some years since the Jesuit novitiate, where future priests under direction of the society are educated, was removed from Frederick, Md., to a Hudson river site north of Poughkeepsie. The new buildings for the college will cost $20,000 in addition to the site, which cost $75,000. Many of the best-known Jesuit priests in the United States of the past and present generations were educated at Woodstock.

The Congregational Home Missionary Society, one of the many American societies having long records of service, was able to begin its fiscal year on April 1, with a balance of $1,200, carried over from its previous year. No money was borrowed last year and no interest paid on old debts, a record not attained before in many years. The total income last year amounted to $247,900, which was $75,000 less than the year before. But appropriations had been reduced with the knowledge that 1910 figures were phenomenal. Congregational Churches in Minnesota and Washington undertook for the first time last year their own missionary work, which meant $25,000 going to their State organizations direct, and there was a falling off in agencies of $56,000, a feature that nobody can control. Private gifts amounting to $30,000 were received during last year, a quite new experience, and the society kept up its full complement of work without falling into debt.

The Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions issues a supplementary statement of its finances, which statement will be presented to the forthcoming General Assembly. It shows the largest gifts to missions ever made by the board, amounting to $1,698,500. The receipts of the board were also the largest, and were $1,632,000 from regular sources. To these receipts credits on accounts on account of income were added amounting to $86,400, showing a surplus on the year's account of $20,000. The year before carried only eleven months, owing to a change of date in closing. Compared with two years ago, churches last year show a gain in gifts of $81,200 and in legacies of $100,000. A debt of $58,000, carried over for two years has now been reduced to $38,000 an earlier statement, amended by later receipts, indicated a small addition to the debt rather than a slight diminution of it. Therefore, to date the new interest in missions on the part of laymen results in increase in receipts of this board in two years of $81,200. The four other societies just ending their fiscal year show decreased receipts and three fall heavily into debt.

The Rev. Christian E. Reiser, pastor of Grace Methodist Episcopal Church, in West One Hundred and Fourth street, recently addressed letters to a number of prominent men asking them their reasons for believing in God.

The following characteristic reply from Mayor Gaynor was read to the congregation at last night's service:

"You ask me, 'Why I believe in God?' because I cannot help it. I simply know there is a God, and that settles it with me. I have absolute confidence in Him, and am willing to submit to whatever He wills in respect to me. You also ask, 'What good comes from reading the Bible?' An immense deal of good. It soothes you and makes you content and charitable. I might add that it educates you, and gives you a good literary style, but that is another matter. Going to church gives people steady habits and makes them prudent and careful, and makes them vote carefully. Church members make a stable nucleus for society."

BEING OBLIGING IS A HABIT

Much To Be Said In Its Favor but Justice Often Is Sacrificed to Generosity.

From the earliest hours of childhood we are taught to be obliging. The little girl sitting at the table puzzling over fractions, is chided if she hesitates to run upstairs and get brother George's gloves which he left on the top of his bureau. The small boy must, of course, run on errands for his big brother, and the mother of six thinks it her imperative duty to impress on the minds of each of her brood their obligation to be self-denying. In a way much is to be said for this peculiarity of early education, yet there is something to be said in favor of justice. There is no reason why children should, as a matter of course, be constantly interrupted and called from their special engagements that they may save steps for able-bodied folk who would be the better for waiting on themselves. The trouble is that justice is sacrificed to generosity. The too-obliging person comes home from business tired, and before he has time to take off his coat is requested, if he be a husband, to walk to the village and procure several supplies that ought to have been ordered in the morning, and that might just as well wait until another day. Perhaps there are not a multitude of men in the world who have the weakness of being accommodating. There are a few, and they are simply taxed by the thoughtlessness of their families until they are worn out.—The Christian Herald.

WOMEN DOCTORS NOT NEW

Knights of Malta Sent Lady to Florence Medical School in Eighteenth Century.

Women as doctors are not a Paris contemporary observance, a product of modern "feminism." It seems that in the eighteenth century there was a lady student at Florence. She came from Malta under the patronage of the Knights of Malta. The administrator of the Majeur hospital was somewhat embarrassed with his new pupil, but he found a means out of the difficulty.

The chief of the Order of the Knights of Malta in introducing his lady protegee to the professors of the Florence School of Medicine wrote: "It seems to me that the matter could be arranged without any great inconvenience if the young lady were boarded during the period she was studying at your medical school with the nuns in a neighboring convent, for which we would pay five crowns a week. In regard to her instruction, she should assist in operations at the women's hospital, notably those performed by Professor Mannoni. He should also give her some private lessons at the convent, for it appears to me that she should not be present in classes with young men."

The council of the hospital, being well disposed to the Knights, adopted the suggestion. More than a century elapsed before another lady was enrolled in the schools of Florence. She was a Russian and was admitted to the schools of Santa Maria Nuova—London Globe.

Courteous to the Last.

A visitor to the jail in a New England city was much impressed by the manners of the few prisoners.

"They seem so gentle and so polite," she said. "I knew there were no hardened criminals here, but I was not prepared for such courteous, even cordial receptions."

"Oh, they're cordial and courteous, all right," said the jailer, "but I'd rather have less manners, myself."

"You would!" and the visitor was evidently shocked.

"I would, ma'am," repeated the jailer. "Six months ago one of the politest men I had here escaped one night, and left a note for me saying, 'I trust you will pardon me for the liberty I take.'"

Easily Spared.

A German in a sleeping car was unable to rest on account of the snoring of fellow travelers on each side of him. Finally one of them gave a vociferous snort and stopped still. "Tanks!" exclaimed the wakeful German, "yon is det!"—The Housekeeper.

HE WILL TAKE ALL OR NONE

That's What Citizens Thought of Honest Man When Seeking for a Treasurer.

Upon a certain occasion an eminent citizen was approached by a delegation of other eminent citizens, the leader of whom proceeded to say:

"Friend, it must be known to thee that we have had dishonest men in office, and the taxpayers have suffered loss thereby?"

"Truly the facts have come to my ear," was the reply.

"We would further state that we are a delegation looking for a new man to fill the position of county treasurer."

"And in me you will find an honest one."

"That is to say, thee wilt not graft?"

"Not the value of a cent."

"There will be much cash to handle."

"But it will be safe with me."

"And there will be constant temptations."

"But I shall withstand them all."

"Hast ever handled public funds?"

"No, but I again assure thee of my honesty."

"Friend," continued the speaker for the delegation, "thou art honest because thou hast never been tempted. We are now losing about ten per cent by graft. Let the office be given to an honest man and he'll either take all or none, and the chances are about even up. We will pass on!"

MORAL.

The honest man of today is the racial of tomorrow.

Disliked Cinematograph.

While a performing tigress was being put through her tricks recently by her tamer Hervemann in front of a cinematograph at Nice, France, she displayed the utmost resentment at seeing the apparatus leveled in her direction. Palling to get at the instrument or its operator, she turned on the trainer and mauled him severely.

SNAKES TO PREVENT PLAGUE

London Professor Urges the Domestication of Serpents to Kill Fleas Bearing Rats.

In a recent article on the plague, Professor Sombon, of the London School of Tropical Diseases, makes the curious suggestion that, instead of trusting to cats and dogs as animal assistants in the war on rats, we should take a lesson from antiquity and again make domestic pets of the big nonvenomous snakes. The professor even goes so far as to hint the Esculapian serpent was an object of widespread respect for the excellent reason that it killed the rats that brought the fear that infected men—probably with more plagues than one. This theory involves the belief that the ancients knew a lot about the nature, cause and transmission of disease that was afterward forgotten and only recently rediscovered. It will probably not be accepted by many, but whether true or not, Professor Sombon, whether seriously or not, does make out quite a case for the feline snake as a rat-killer. Judiciously selected, its efficiency would be beyond question, and it would not, like both cats and dogs, itself provide the fatal flea with convenient shelter and pasturage.—New York Times.

Origin of Names of Dances.

The name "quadrille" is derived from the position of the dancers, the French word "quadrille" meaning a little square. "Country dance," does not mean a rustic dance, but is a corruption of the French term "contredanse," which relates to the position of the couples opposite each other.

PATRIOTS TOOK TWO OUT OF THREE FROM WINSTON TEAM

Greensboro's "Rube" Pitcher, Backed by a Winning Team, Got Away With Saturday Game—Thousands Saw Battle—Many Winston People Here.

Nearly three thousand lovers of the National game saw the Patriots take the last of the series with the Twins at Cone Athletic park yesterday afternoon, by a score of 4 to 1. In the crowd were nearly 300 people from Winston-Salem, and although they were an enthusiastic bunch of rooters, they were simply overwhelmed by the supporters of the winning men that followed the standard of Rabbit Doyle. The eastern section of the grand stand was taken up by the visitors, and during the early part of the game they were quite noisy, but when the Patriots made the last two runs in the eighth they were entirely suppressed and hushed.

It was the largest crowd of the league season by at least a thousand people and the management of the teams were highly gratified at the splendid showing in the way of gate receipts. The crowd filled both grand stands, the bleachers, lined up along the bleacher fence and stretched out into the playing field.

"Rube" Eldridge took the knoll for the locals and was in fine form. The first inning he fanned three men in one-two-three order, and in the second only three men faced him, and of these three he struck out two and the other flew out to Rickard. Toward the middle of the game he let up a little and allowed six hits in all. The one run made by the Twins was not earned, but was the result of one of Bentley's perennial muffs.

Spencer was on the mound for the visitors and was hit by the Patriots in every inning but one. In the second Clapp led off with a three base hit. Stewart and Eldridge were hit by pitched balls, and Clapp and Stewart scored on Rickard's single. No more runs were made until the eighth, when Doak was hit by a pitched ball. Clapp was safe on O'Halloran's fumble. Carroll then lined out a lovely single and Doak scored. Stewart hit to the pitcher and forced Clapp at third. Eldridge singled and filled the bases. Rickard then came to the bat and was given four bad ones, which forced in Carroll and gave the locals the fourth run of the day.

The game was featured by the work of Eldridge, who struck out ten men, a pretty catch of Rickard's in deep center when there were runners on second and third, and three double plays—one by the Patriots and two by the Twins.

CHARLOTTE LOST TWO TO ANDERSON

Charlotte May 20.—Anderson took both ends of a double-header here today, winning the morning contest four to nothing, and the afternoon one six to one. McCarthy pitched this morning and allowed the Hornets but three hits, while Walters was touched for thirteen, seven of them coming in one inning.

One of the greatest crowds of the season witnessed the afternoon game. Van Pelt, the mill league boy, started off badly in the first, walking the first two men up and the next three batters hitting safely. From that time on, however, he was all right until the eighth when he again weakened. Anderson was in the game all the way through. The Hornets go to Greensboro Monday for two games. Score today:

SPARTANBURG, 10; GREENVILLE, 1

Greenville, S. C., May 20.—Hill's beautiful pitching for Spartanburg won the last game of the series from the local aggregation 10 to 1. Hill had perfect control and received fine support until the ninth. Redfern, in his first game of the season, was wild in the early stages. Greenville's one was a home run, and the last were from six hits, one error and unsuccessful fielders choice.

DIAMOND DUST

Diamond Dust. Getting away from the other teams.

Charlotte seems to have gotten on the toboggan.

That eighth inning put the quietus on the Winston rooters.

Spartanburg and Anderson don't seem to like the atmosphere of the cellar.

Hornets got the hot end of a double-header there yesterday.

Got to hand this to Greensboro, they've got about the swellest pitching equipment ever brought into this company, certainly the best that's in it now.—Charlotte Observer.

Some class to the way Rickard gets them in center field.

Carroll is showing that there is something in him since he has gotten a little practice.

With a dentist and a deacon both on his pitching staff, Doyle ought to be able to pull something out of his opponents this season.—The Observer.

He will.

The dejected and twice-stung Hornets will be here Monday for two games.

Eldridge is showing up with his old-time form.

The trouble with the other teams in the circuit seems to be a lack of a good pitching staff.

Still are willing to wager we have the best team in the league.

Bet there was weeping, wailing and gnashing of teeth in Winston-Salem and Charlotte last night.

Sorry you think we are inhospitable, Winston, but it's a part of the game.

President Brandt umpired the game yesterday. While some of the boys in the grandstand jocularly kicked on his decisions, they were nevertheless uniformly fair.

There will be only two games here this week. Monday and Tuesday the Hornets will be here, and after that the Patriots will be in Anderson and Spartanburg.

Princeton Shut Harvard Out. Special to Telegram.

Princeton, N. J., May 20.—In the baseball game here today between Princeton and Harvard, the former was the winner, the score being five to nothing in favor of Princeton.

Hornets Come Monday.

The Charlotte Hornets will make their appearance at Cone Athletic Park for the first time this season Monday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. It is expected that a large crowd will witness the game. It is probable that Tony Walters will pitch the first of the series of two games.
